

WANT NATION TO CONTROL TOBACCO

Virginia Farmers Plan Government Ownership of Business.

FORBID PRIVATE DEALING

Bill to Be Offered in Congress Approved by Committee Here.

Absolute government control of the tobacco business is now the most important question before the Farmers' Educational and Co-operative Union of America in the tobacco raising States, and discussion of the matter was the main business of the Virginia executive committee, which concluded its deliberations at the Lexington Hotel, in this city.

The committee, to which the proposition was referred, endorsed a bill for government control, which will be brought up during the present session of Congress.

The bill was drafted by the Virginia branch of the union, and has been approved by the national board of directors. It will be offered by a Virginia Congressman, and when it has been referred to the proper committee the union will use every effort to have it favorably reported.

World Have Bureau. The proposed bill, which has been drawn with great care, provides for the establishment of a bureau of tobacco industry, to be "within and subject to the Treasury Department." The President shall appoint a director for the bureau, who, under regulations of the Secretary of the Treasury, shall effect an organization, acquire machinery and employ such assistance as may be necessary to buy, manufacture and sell tobacco in all forms. The President will have the power to remove this director for due cause so long as political considerations are not considered.

This director shall inaugurate a system of accounting that will show the conduct of the office, and shall, at the end of each fiscal year, show the profits and losses resulting from his operations. A reasonable deduction is to be made for depreciation of the plant each year, and as soon as the business has been placed on a profitable basis, an allowance is to be made for a revenue equivalent to that which is now imposed on the same tobacco when in the hands of persons, firms or corporations, which allowance shall annually be paid into the hands of the Treasurer of the United States as revenue. It also provides, after five years from the establishment of the bureau, the Secretary of the Treasury set aside a sinking fund out of the net profits of the business.

For the Woman Who Has Beautiful Hair

(New York Theatrical News.)

The beauties in the Anna Held Chorus are famous for their plumpitude. Their coiffures add a great deal to their charms. How they can "manage" such abundance of beautiful tresses day in and day out, keeping always the same well-groomed appearance, is the envy of the average woman. But, listen while I whisper, these girls depend altogether upon dry shampooing to keep their hair fine and glossy.

They mix 4 ounces of powdered orris root with 4 ounces of the shampoo, and they are prepared for a season's shampooing. Once or twice a week they sprinkle a tablespoonful of this mixture on the head and then brush the powder well through the hair. That is all there is to it, and they have escaped the bother and discomfort that accompany washing, rinsing and drying the hair, together with the danger of catching cold.

The wonderful results they achieve with this mixture convince me that it is the only thing that can grow hair, for their hair is long and abundant in addition to being fluffy and lustrous.

But Out Private Business.

In the event that the bill becomes a law it will be effective on and after July 1, 1916. Then, according to the present draft, "It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to buy, manufacture, sell or deal in any form of tobacco or any of its products, except such persons, firms or corporations as may be the duly appointed agents or officers of the United States government, who may be charged with the duty of buying or selling tobacco or its products for the account of said government, and such persons, firms or corporations as may buy tobacco and its products exclusively from the government for export. Any person, firm or corporation violating this provision shall, upon conviction thereof, be fined $1,000 for each offense, and shall be imprisoned for not less than one year nor more than five years. In case the offense is committed by a corporation, the fine shall be imposed upon both the corporation and its officer, agent or employee who commits the offense, and the said officer, employee or agent shall be imprisoned just as though he acted for himself."

The act authorizes the Secretary of the Treasury to sell from time to time United States industrial bonds, exceeding $500,000,000 in the aggregate, to carry out the purposes of the act, the bonds to bear interest at the rate of 3 per cent per annum.

Will Hold Product. "For the present," said Secretary-Treasurer H. L. Pettit of the Virginia Association, who is also a national committee member, "members of the union have decided to redry, prize and store their tobacco, and sell when the price offered justifies it. North Carolina, Kentucky and Tennessee are doing the same thing, and are meeting with success. This State and North Carolina, as far as is possible, are building redrying plants in each tobacco county. In many counties of both States such plants already have been established. It is also advised by the union that the tobacco acreage be curtailed and that the farmers turn their attention to raising more food crops."

The executive committee examined the books of the secretary-treasurer and found the finances of the union to be in good condition. Though no action in this direction has yet been taken, the indications are that the next annual convention of the Virginia Association will be held in this city. It is estimated that there will be 1,000 members present.

To aid the famine sufferers in China, The Times-Dispatch secured $1,631.39. One thousand dollars of this sum was forwarded to the affected region some time ago, and the following letter was received by this paper yesterday:

MONEY-LENDING CASE IS APPEALED

City Attorney Pollard Has Three Cases Pending Before Highest Tribunal.

City Attorney Henry R. Pollard will appear before the United States Supreme Court in Washington on Monday, April 24, to argue the famous usury case, involving the right of the city to place a special tax on private bankers charging excessive interest on loans. The case on appeal bears the title Bradley against the city of Richmond, and is designed to test the validity of the law imposing a special tax on money lenders. Eight other cases are pending, awaiting the outcome of the test that has been agreed upon.

The case is of wide interest, and will be of far-reaching importance, as has been declared on money lending in many cities. The city some years ago adopted an ordinance fixing a special license of $500 for that class of business. The contest is on the ground that the act is an unconstitutional discrimination against a certain class of business. The money lenders, most of whom are agents out of the State banking firms, are represented by I. H. Harris of New York.

The city of Richmond will be no stranger to the United States Supreme Court this year. The test case involving the validity of the building line ordinance will reach an argument during the spring, and the famous Higginson case in the city and the Western Union Telegraph Company will be argued next autumn.

POLICE COURT CASES

Charles McCallum, white, was asked in Police Court yesterday morning to come across with twenty seeds for being drunk and disorderly and resisting Police Officer Bradley. He was also required to give $100 security for thirty days.

Edward Gusti, Lawrence Guthrow and Milton Polkes, who were originally white, were dismissed of the charge of being disorderly on the premises at 505 North Tenth street. They were yanked out from beneath the porch Tuesday night by Police Officer Bradley. They had nothing except a liberal coating of another earth and the dust of the streets.

Mercer Vaughan, colored, helped himself to a pair of trousers belonging to William Vaughan, and Justice Crutcher helped him to thirty days in jail.

The case against C. M. Coleman, white, charged with obtaining wine and whiskey from the Jefferson Hotel under false pretenses, was continued to this morning.

N. Conant, charged with peddling without a license, was fined $100, and applied for a license.

Christopher Larkin, twelve years old, who came all the way from New York to see his mother, was the guest of the city until his mother can be heard from. He said he was anxious to see his mamma again, and believed he would want to travel

Admires Gluck.

A Richmond woman, who has just returned from "fourteen weeks of grand opera in New York," said yesterday: "I don't believe the Richmond people half realize what an immense treat is in store for them in hearing Gluck sing at the May Festival. She is literally the golden-throated Gluck. Her voice is as fresh as a seraph's, and she sings not only the song itself, but its very spirit. I have heard her in all her roles this winter, and I infinitely prefer her to Maria or Eames. In my opinion, she is the best particular star of the Metropolitan Opera Company."

Alma Gluck is the youngest of all the Metropolitan Opera Company. She is a native of Bohemia, but came to this country as a child, and was employed as confidential secretary in a large business house in New York, when she discovered that she had a contralto soprano voice, and gave up her work for the study of music. "I don't think I ever heard her sing, and engaged her for the Metropolitan. She made her debut two years ago as Sophie, in "Werther," gaining an immediate success. Madame Gluck has not only an exquisite voice, but a charming personality.

SHAFTS FROM SPOTLAND

But for a few things which happened at inopportune moments we would have won both games. However, the showing made must be pleasing to the fans. We more than held our own against the invaders, even though they are rated several classes above us. Wallace and McCabe and Pierce each got two hits, and Wee Willie Baker didn't do a thing but bat for .557 in the two games.

Every team coming to Richmond remarks upon the ability of our third baseman. He is there, spelled in big caps and before the season is over watch him leave us for faster company.

Nothing had been heard from Owner Bradley as to his negotiations in connection with the purchase of Bunting last night. He has stated that he will not buy him with any strings attached, which is a very wise move. We want Bunting, but we don't want him at just any price.

Pierce hit one yesterday to center-field fence, and hit it so hard that he could make but one base. The ball hit the fence and bounded back into the fielder's hands.

Wallace's home run was about the hardest hit ball ever witnessed here. It passed over the fence, about ten feet higher than the top, in deep left, and a little to the left of the clubhouse.

Owner Bradley has announced that he will sign contracts for exhibition games next year except for first teams. He is tired of playing Yanigans.

Tumor has it that Pitcher McGraw, who worked against the locals with the New York American League team, will be sent here by Hal Chase. He will be welcomed.

Guess Harvey Bussey will have to quit baseball. He announced that he could not make good with the majors he would drop out, and now comes the announcement that McAleer is going to send him to the minors. Bussey is a good man, but he is not getting any younger, and McAleer is too wise to hang on to a pitcher whose days of greatest usefulness are in the past.

Curtis Walker pitched for Jersey City against the Giants on Tuesday, and was soaked for twelve hits in four innings. He then retired.

Clauser has been given his release. He claims that he has not been given a show by the local club. If ever a boy has been given a show he is that boy. Clauser has no reason to be dissatisfied. He will probably make good, but he needs some experience.

Mattis is improving nicely and may make a good fielder. If he keeps up his work there seems to be little doubt of it.

Pender umpired a good game yesterday. On the whole, he has been doing good work. True, he has missed some, but who doesn't? He is fair, honest, not a homer, and calls them as he sees them, which is a mighty good recommendation for an umpire. We predict that he will be well liked in the Eastern League.

Our new infield is continuing to show form. Just one hope and that is to move Martin up to first place in the batting order, certainly was not to do any harm at this stage to make the experiment.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

Foushee going to third. Thompson scored. Foushee on hit to left. Bundy scored on a bad throw by Gresham.
